EVENT DESCRIPTION

Join the Governor's School Foundation for Artists in Bloom, a celebration highlighting the talented students from the Governor's School. Our live host will introduce moving student performances, facilitate a simultaneous virtual toast for all attendees, and show us how the Governor's School experience is changing lives in South Carolina. Dynamic use of technology will allow us to pop into our Party-at-Home groups and make our virtual guests from all over feel like they are (safely) mingling.

Each partner can choose from two ways to participate in Artists in Bloom:

- Attend the intimate garden party at the home of foundation board chair Terry Grayson-Caprio
- Be a Party-at-Home host for a small group of friends

The Governor's School Foundation raises donations to increase access to the school for low-income students, supports the school's efforts to provide arts education in under-resourced counties, and bridges the gap between state funding and the unique needs of a premier public arts school.
